10' IH War Emergency Boxcar for Southeastern Roads

In 1944, Pullman built War Emergency Boxcars with 10' interior height for five Southeastern roads: Atlanta & West Point, Birmingham Southern, Central of Georgia, Georgia and Western of Alabama. These were an identical design to the 10'6" IH cars found on several Midwestern roads--composite sides, 4/5 Dreadnaught ends with a "W" section corner post, steel paneled roof and modified AAR underframe. The design was developed to save scarce steel during World War II.

Sunshine provides these cars in the traditional gray castings. Masters are by Lloyd Keyser and Joe Pennington. Kits feature a solid roof, all detailing parts, full instructions and a Prototype Data Sheet. Etched stainless steel roofwalk, laterals and brake step come with the kit. Kits have specialized decals--many not available elsewhere. Birmingham Southern black and white and all white, A&WP "West Point Route" and C of Ga. logos included. Trucks and couplers are available separately.
